PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1

COLUMBUS, November 5 .- Election day dawned in Ohio clear and cold. Reports received from all parts of the State speak of the beautiful weather and general large vote polled everywhere. Columbus, however, is the only city in Ohio where the registration exceeds that of the last Presidental year. In Cincinnati the vote fell off nearly 4,000; in Cleveland, 7,000, while Dayton and Toledo also show a decline. especially the latter.

There are 17 cities in this State that have registration laws, the law applying to all cities having 25,000 inhabitants and over. The man with the lead pencil was abroad in the land as is shown by the returns on Governor. Forsker has been scratched, it seems from reports received, nearly every-

Amendments Voted Upon

The three proposed amendments to the constitution, viz.: Single legislative districts; taxation amendment, allowing each Legislature once in every two years to fix the rate on the tax duplicate, and biennia! elections, which would reduce the number of elections; have all fallen in one general grave, being beaten by at least 100,000 ma-

The people did not understand them exactly, and many were bitterly opposed to tinkering with the constitution adopted in 1851. It has stood for 38 years, with only one of the many changes proposed in that long time being adopted, and that was the one two years ago, when the time of holding the State elections was changed from Oc-

Satisfied With the Constitution.

Able men of both parties were elected and took part in framing a new constitution in 1873, among whom were those able jurists, Chief Justice Waite and ex-Governor Hoadly, but the new instrument was voted down by the people, snowed under, as it were, by 50,000 majority. The registration law of Ohio is a good thing in one respect, "namely: A voter can vote his convictions without any interference or electioneering. A red flag is put up 100 feet from the polls. and no one but the voter is allowed to approach nearer the voting place than that A policeman is also stationed at each poll box, and if a voter (after having voted) atkeep account of each party's voters, are in the same room with the judges.

Quite a Colored Defection. Republicans claim that scores of colored men were bought up for Campbell, and openly worked for him while flaunting Campbell badges, which were pinned to their coats. Democrats deny this, and say that the colored men who voted for Campbell in Cincinnati could be counted on the fingers of one hand. The returns thus far received show that ex-Governor Foster, who is a candidate for United States Senate on the Republican ticket, has gotten in his work in some of the close counties, notably Delaware, Hardin and Van Wert. He has been traveling over the State for the past two weeks, with a little gripsack that he never lets go of. It is estimated that he has given Republican candidates for the Legislature at least $75,000. The returns from the State have been so slow that the State sommittees have been unable to make any exact estimates as to the result of the election on either the State or Legislature. The Republican State Executive Committee received returns in the City Hall, and announced the vote to an mmense throng. The Democratic State Committee had no hall, receiving news at its rooms, but the local committee had quite a crowd in another part of the city.

The Governor is Resting. Governor Foraker came up from Cincin nati to-night, but was so fatigued that he had to go to his home and rest. A private wire was run into his office, where his private secretary, Mr. Kurtz, members of the State Committee and prominent Republican politicians, among them Hon. Stephen A. Douglas, Jr., of Chicago, figured on the

The count was very slow. At midnight considerably less than one-fifth of the State, outside Hamilton county, had been heard from, and the reports showed heavy Democratic gains. The result, however, was so uncertain that there was very little demonstration on the streets, although thousands of people were out late to learn the news. Chairman Neal, of the Democratic State

Cinims Campbell's Election by from 5,000 to 15,000 plurality. This estimate is based on supposition that Hamilton county has given Campbell 5,000 plurality and on the reports from other towns and cities, which, outside of Hamilton county, show decided Democratic gains. As to the Legislature, he is doubt. He thinks, however, that it may be Democratic on a joint

The election of the entire Democratic Legislative ticket in Hamilton county is claimed, a Representative has been gained in Perry county, and a private telegram from Toledo claims the election of two Democratic Senators and a Democratic Representative in place of three Republicans who were elected there two years ago.

The Republican Figures Ex-Chairman Cappeller, of the Republican State Executive Committee is figuring on the returns in Governor Foraker's office, assisted by Mr Douglass. He says:

"I feel confident that Governor Foraker is elected. I do not concede Hamilton county to Campbell by 5,000 or 4,000. The county outside of the city is 1,000 Republican. Even if the Democratic plurality in the county should be 4,000 the Democratic gains elsewhere in the State must average 5% votes to elect Campbell. The returns so where the liquor vote was against us and where the liquor dealers were against Governor Foraker.

"The county districts have not been heard to any extent. We are sure of holding our own there and are likely to make gains. A very liberal estimate is an average Democratic gain outside of Hamilton county of 414 votes to a precinct,

Which Would Elect Gov. Foraker by 1,500 to 2,000 plurality. The Republican State ticket will be elected by a larger plurality. The Republicans claim the Legislature certainly. They claim a divided delegation from Hamilton county and a majority on a joint ballot, which would

IN THE NORTHERN END.

The Contest Between Campbell and Fornker in Cleveland and Vicinity-Fentures That Affected the Vote One Way or the Other.

CLEVELAND, November 5.-The election in Ohio was, like all great struggles, whether physical or political, very quiet. but very resolute. The day was fresh and invigorating, and while the heavens were dark, no rain fell. Occasionally small flakes of snow, light as air, were driven over city and hamlet by a northern wind, which swept to the south direct from the region beyond Lake Erie.

In Cleveland the day was marked by no adventure. The election was faultless in order and general arrangement. No tobacco or rum smelling ticket peddlers annoved decent citizens when they approached the polls. No loiterers were permitted to volunteer information as to who was worthy of success or unworthy of it, either, for that matter.

THE NEW SYSTEM.

The 73 polling stations were in charge of an equal number of Democratic and Republican judges and clerks appointed by a nonpartisan board of elections. No man could vote who had not registered and whose name had not been posted in a public place for the scrutiny of all mankind, if mankind the scrutiny of all mankind, if mankind was disposed that way. Two citizens representing the two great political parties distributed tickets from booths connected with the polling place. In fact everything that was possible to insure an orderly and legal election was done, and not only in Cleveland, but in all the cities of Ohio. No wiseacre appeared in any part of the State with a positive prediction that commanded attention and confidence.

The result was beyond the ken of the old. est campaigner anywhere. Republicans hoped for success; Democrats did the same. publicans generally felt sure that Foraker would be "cut" here, and thereby cautious citizens who think two terms in the Gubernatorial chair quite ENOUGH FOR ANY MAN. big or little, and by others who do not or ever will believe that he was faithful to Sherman when that distinguished statesman was in the Presidental controversy a year and a half ago.

Democrats felt confident that Campbell. their chosen leader, would suffer at the hands of those members of his party who swear by ex-President Cleveland and his swear by ex-President Cleveland and his policy of tariff reform and at the hands of those consistent partisans who disapprove of the elevation of "political renegades,"

All this complicated the situation and tempts to linger near, he is politely, but Republicans bereabouts and elsewhere were firmly requested to move on. The men who rality of 10,000 votes, or his defeat by a plurality not quite so large, perhaps, but equally as convincing. The whisky ques-tion, too, cut no small figure in the contest. Under Republican rule saloon keepers were taxed $250 a year, and townships can by vote prohibit the sale of all manner and kind of liquor.

ONE IMPORTANT PEATURE. The saloon men are not infatuated with these statutes nor with the section therein which makes it unlawful to sell intoxicants on Sunday. The impression prevailed that brewers, distillers and dealers generally were Democrats this autumn, and many members of the Democratic party, who are in favor of restricting the liquor traffic, were quite content to vote the Republican ticket and thus defeat the supposed purposes of those men who seek to amend present liquor laws.

Here again was another complication, and level-headed Ohioans were therefore too discreet to be very emphatic in their prophe cies. However, every man claimed a victory, but the claim was made without the usual threat to back it with money or ac-ceptable collateral. There was indeed no

WHERE FORAKER LOST.

His Own County Rolls Up an Enormous Majority Against Him-Campbell's Majority Over 5,000 in Hamilton. CINCINNATI, November 15,-The Democrats are using their tongues and throats in the streets by way of celebration of their victory, while here and there a determined Republican swelled the Campbell shouting by a hurrah for Foraker. The news given out by the Republicans at the Lincoln Club was not found to be exhilarating, and the crowd there melted earlier than usual. Though the dem-5½ votes to elect Campbell. The returns so onstrations of rejoicing were noisy, far have been from the cities and towns they were in the main good where the liquor vote was against us and natured and were so received by those on the street who did not feel moved to participate. At 12:30 14 precincts in Cincinnati were not heard from. The majority for Campbell without these was 5,149.

The election in Cincinnati and Hamilton county was under the control of the Board of Elections. They appoint and control all the registrars, judges and clerks and see that both parties are fairly represented in these appointments. Voting can only be done after registration, and that work is so carefully guarded that no loopholes for successful fraud have yet been found. hundred feet on each side of the voting place a line is stretched across the sidewalk and marked by a flag. Within a space thus marked no ticket holders are allowed, only the voter Legislature is generally conceded to be in assure the election of a Republican United who is thus enabled to reach the polls undisturbed and deposit his vote. The plan perfectly, and only two arrests were made during three duct and one for an attempt to vote illegally. Challenging committees, the number regulated by the Board of elections, and supplies with books containing printed lists of registered voters, were ready to make it unpleasant for any enterprising repeater who tried to reproduce the proceed-ings of elections under the old regime. Quite early in the day Governor Foraker, who is a resident of precinct "C," Ward 26, on Walnut Hills, went to the polls with General Hall, of Maine, and deposited his ballot. The polls closed at 4 P. M., and after that the boys held the streets and used them in burning barrels, with no reference to the news. The loss by Foraker of Hamilton county. which gave him a plurality of nearly 7,000 two years ago, has been largely effected by a defection in the German Republican wards. The losses in single precincts in some of these wards amount to more than 200 votes This result was not fully anticipated by the Republicans, as they were very confident late this afternoon that the defection in the German quarter was trifling. While the losses of Foraker were not confined to these wards, they are much more marked there than in other portions of the city. The returns also show that especially in the German wards the head of the ticket was the thing most severely hit by the Bepublican scratchers. This leaves hope to the Republican calculators at midnight that at least one Sepator on the Republican ticket may be elected. The Commercial Gazette, commenting the result in Hamilton county, says it is an outgrowth of the Sunday question. The saloon legislation did not seem to be the disturbing thing, but rather the bad adminof discontent among the Germans. The estimate at midnight is that Campbell will carry Hamilton county by over 6,000.

Something was said which he didn't like and in his anger he drove all the other officials from behind the rail. He was officials from bening the rail. He was locked up and quiet was restored.

In Norfolk county there had been a redhot bitter fight for the Shrievalty. Sheriff Endicott, a Democrat, held the office by virtue of his appointment by Governor Robinson. For three years he has been renominated by both parties, but this fall one of his deputies named Bradley, secured the Republican nomination. There was a lively campaign, during which mud-slinging and charges of dishonest methods were freely made. The Republicans all over the country refused to ratify their party's nominee, and Sheriff Endicott was re-elected by a handsome majority. The Republican was knifed right and left by his own party.

Australian System is a Great Success. BOSTON, November 5 .- To-day's experience has seemed to prove beyond doubt the success of the Australian system of voting and testimony from all sections of the State is almost unanimous in its praise. In the city voting places have presented a remarkably quiet appearance, and the scenes therein have in many cases been in marked ontrast to those usually witnessed. Voting has proceeded with dispatch and voters have enjoyed the freedom from the importunities of ballot distributors that they have never known before. At about 9:15 P. M., when THE DISPATCH correspondent called upon him, the Governor was in a very cheerful frame of mind. Speaking of the State ticket he said: "Everything looks very favorable for the whole Democratic ticket, and I have no fears on that score." The President's Ear at the Telegraph Al Day and Night-Ho Seemed to Hope for Foraker's Downfall-Delighted With the News From

Montana. ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. WASHINGTON, November 5 .- Much more interest is displayed in the election returns in Washington to-night than is usual in an insignificant and made but little trouble. off year. There was just one place in the With regard to the ballots themselves, there | whole town where, early in the day, there were any unusual signs of interest being taken in what was going on outside the capital. This was in the White House, and it is safe to say that Ben Harrison listened to the click of the telegraph with more engerness than ear of his 65,060,000 constituents.

Harrison feels a sort of personal interest in the outcome of to-day's fight, for several reasons. In Virginia, because he upheld the hands of Mahone and gave his consent to the methods employed by Matthew Stanley Quay to fasten Mahoneism upon the people of Virginia; because he looks to Mahone te drive the entering wedge that is to split up the solid South and make it possible for him to set up a machine from the White House that will nominate him for second term. In Ohio, because Ben Harrison fears the man who wants a third term, and would feel much relieved in mind if the ambitious and noisy Foraker should have his wings clipped just enough to cripple him in the big fight in '92. There was no special wire run into the White House from the headquarters of the various States, but a loop was put in from the main office of the telegraph company in this city, so that every dispatch that contained a bit of news was burried into the President's library. Early in the morning Senators Mitchell, Moody and Dolph called and put the President in a pleasant frame of mind by giving him confirmation of the press dispatches, showing that the Republicans had gobbled up everything in Prince Russell'st State except the Govenership which was allowed to go to Mr. Toole. The President rubbed his hands with satisfac tion when his Western callers left, and was in a proper mood to receive the dispatch by wire that said a big vote was being polled in Virginia, and that the ever-sauine Mahone was claiming the State by ,000 or 10,000, always referring, however to the probability of his being counted out.

Davidson, Democratic candidate for Mayor, is certainly elected by about 4,500 majority. The Republicans will, from the present indications, elect six delegates to the Legislature, a gain for that party. The City Council will be very close. In some wards it will require the official count to determine the result. The Democrats appear at this writing to have a good and fair working majority in at least on branch, and perhaps one majority in the other. From all over the State comes news of Democratic gains. The returns from South-ern Maryland will not come in until very late, there being no telegraphic communica-tions with that section. The eastern shores of Maryland turn out increased majorities for the Democratic ticket, while Western Maryland splits even. The Democrats will have a good majority in the Legislature, certainly not less than 15 on joint ballot, thus insuring the election of a Democrat to the United States Senate, a Democratic Police Commissioner, and the State patronage. It is undoubtedly the biggest victory the Democrats have ever gained in this State, and to-night they are jubilant. Their estimate is a majority of 11,000. Shortly before the closing of the polls in the First precinct of the Fifteenth ward a fight took place between John Apple, a fusionist ticket holder, and William Driscoll, the latter a Democrat. Apple was knocked down and kicked in the head, and was dead when picked up. Driscoll is held for the murder. There were several other assaults, but none of a serious nature

General Mahone to-day sent the following telegram to the Washington Post:

To the Editor of the Post:

Rev. H. W. Dickerson, a colored minister who has lately been denied the right to preach at the colored lunatic asylum because he chooses to be a Republican and to support the Republican ticket, went this morning to his polling place at 7 o'clock to vote, and while three Democrats and one Republican were permitted to vote he was unable to get his ballot in until 12:10, it taking just five hours and ten minutes for him to get his ballot into the hands of the election officers. This is the same precinct—the Sixth ward, Petersburg—in which, at the late Presidental election, by the purposely dilatory process of the election judges—and they are the same now—200 and old votes were shut out. This fraud upon the voters of that precinct is still going on, there being over 200 voters now (3 o'clock) at the polls, many of whom have been there since? To the Editor of the Post:

in the Southwest his workers made systematic efforts to make up for losses by the use of tissue ballots. A negro was arrested in Danville who was trying to vote six of these Republican tissue ballots at once. Six negroes were arrested there during the day who were trying to use these by lots. At Farmville, the bome of the Democratic nominee, the wildest enthusiasm prevailed. Up to last night a decided change was notice-Up to last night a decided change was noticeable among the negroes. Many of them had been saying they would vote the Democratic ticket. This morning the town was flooded with appeals from Langston to the negroes to vote for Mahone. Some of them were greatly mystified at this, as only a few days since, they were couning over appeals from the same source warning them against from the same source warning them agai. Mahone as an eneny of the colored man.

CLAIMS OF FOUL.

CLAIMS OF POUL.

Conservative Democrats estimate that despite all their vigilance Mahone has cheated them in one way and another out of from 5,000 to 7,000 votes to-day. They contend that if the administration agents and Quay and Clarkson had not interfered to throttle the free expression of the true sentiment of the people, Virginia would have gone 50,000 against him.

"Don't have any hope of Virginia ever going Republican after this," said a disconsolate Republican who said he had voted for Mahone against his own judgment. "The average Virginian was getting ready to feel kindly toward the Republican party, but after this trying to stuff Mahone down the throats of the people the 'Grand Old Party' will have to suffer from the smirching it has received. You will see that the average Virginian hereafter will be a hopeless subject for the Republican party. We can't be too certain about the negroes, either. At 10.30 o'clock, with nearly one-half of the State to hear from, the Democrats have carried the State by 20,000 and elected both branches of the Legislature, and will have two-thirds on joint ballot. The Southwest where Mahone expected his greatest gains, has been practically given up by the Republicans at headquarters here, though returns are yet meager from there. At 11 o'clock it is plain that the Democratic State ticket has been elected by 30,000 majority, and also both branches of the Legislature. A majority of 30,000 on the State ticket is claimed by the Democrats, and it is pretty certain it will be reached. The Republicans now give up the southwest of the State. Judge Waddill, the Chairman of the Republican Committee here, poked his head out of headquarters and cried to the large crowd of negroes there assembled: "The election is over. The Republican ticket is defeated. Now, go home, and go to bed." They went. in. In some counties in the "black belt" the negroes voted with the Democrats. The

This took substantial shap in getting up meals for the workers at the polls. The result has been that the most superb evidences of Old Virginia cookery have been sent to all the precincts, in the way of hot soups, fresh pies and syster pat-ties, beside tempting desserts of all varie-ties, some of the belies of Richmond vieing in cooking these delicacies with their own hands. In some instances, especially in the country, there were amusing dilemmas. When the negro female cooks who were cooking these extraordinary spreads learned cooking these extraordinary spreads learned that they were for Democratic workers at the polls, they sulked, and in some instances let them burn or refused to have anything more to do with the cooking. But such instances were not abundant. Said a worker in Jackson ward to-day: "I never saw such magnificent eating in my life."

Evidently by a preconcerted plan on the part of Mahone a number of negro votes failed to get in in Jackson ward, the large negro ward of this city. The Republican judge there, a negro, suddenly left the precinct at 1 o'clock, and after half an hour's absence, returned with warrants charging two Democrats with obstructing the voters. The other two judges of election investigated the matter and decided that there was no ground for the charges. They therefore dismissed them. Thereupon the negro judge sulked and declined to act. This of course prevented any further voting, as the course prevented any further voting, as the law requires the presence of all three judges. After the polis closed the Mahoneites started to pell on their own account, and have been yoting all night, with uninterrupted incilities for stuffing that ballot box.

of course Mahone's game is to try to work up a cry of fraud, and he will use these ballots as evidence. The Democrats say they will relax none of their vigilance. They have been instructed to guard the ballot boxes from now until the time of the meeting of the State Canvassing Board. "Why, sir," said a Powhatan county man to THE DISPATCH correspondent, "do y know that the janitors of all our cou houses are negroes and in the pay of Ma-hone? We mean to see that they don't steal anything out of these boxes."

General Cut of the Republican Ticket in Allegheny County.

UNIVERSAL APATHY AND A LIGHT VOTE

Yesterday's Election a Revolution - Big Democratic Gains-C. L. Roward Nos Louing Any Sleep, Though He Missed His Dinner Yesterday-What He Says About His Defent-Caroner McDowell Rests Ener-He Thinks His Election & Vindication of His Administration

The election yesterday was somewhat of a arprise. There was a big falling off in the Republican vote and a general cutting all around. Boyer suffered severely. R. H. Johnston was elected District Atterney, and Coroner McDowell retains his grip on his office. Republicans generally were indifferent, and worked with little spirit. Demos crats celebrating their victory.

The election has closed with one of the most peculiar day's work ever done by the Allegheny county voters, and productive of the most startling results. Judge Collies. resumes his seat on the bench as he was one pected to without opposition and with dignity. The fight on the District Attorneyship resulted in the election of R. H. Johnston by about 6,000 majority over Arch. H. Roward. The politicians who were willing to speak of the subject last night said that to regard Johnston's success as a Democratic victory would be a sad misapplication of terms. It indicated simply a delection from the Republican ranks as some of the votes proved in the various districts.

S. P. Connors, the Recorder, who had put in a hard day's work in Coroner McDowell's interest, said last night that the showing in some of the precinets was simply worderful. "For example," said he, "there are three precinets in the First and Second wards, Allegheny, which have always bess Republican by good strong majorities.
They went to-night exactly the other way, showing a Democratic gain in one of the First ward of 157, and in two of the Second ward of 134 and 129 each." The Coroner's fight yesterday was harder as he was upon the ticket. There is an doubt, however, that he will preside over the investigations into the cause of sudden and suspicious deaths for the coming t efforts failed and the apti-Rowand wave was powerless to wash McDowell back into the On the Treasury fight a great deal of outting was said to have been done, but C. L. Magee said about midnight that he thousant Boyer would go out of Allegheny county with between 6,000 and 7,000 majority. A later estimate on Johnston's majority gave an average gain of 41 to a district, and thus proportion carried out would give Johnston

7,000 majority. The vote vesterday was distinctly an "off year" effort, if an effort of any kind it could be called. A tour through the various precincts showed but little work being done and the most apathetic feeling possible manifested by the Republican managers, in some precincts the tables being deno pretense at work of any kind being made, The people generally seemed to regard the election as none of their business, and the result was as might be expected. Cutting was the order of the day among those who took the trouble to vote, in some instances being productive of the most startling results, as in Elizabeth borough, when the vote changed from a Repub majority to 208 Democratic. No explanation could be made of the cuts in the State ticket on Boyer, except the influence of the Roward defection.

C. L. Magee said last night that it was probable the discontent existing in some quarters on the distribution of Federal offices had its effect on the vote which was easily percaptible.

FIGURING ON BETURNS. The old headquarters for receiving re-turns in the fire slarm room at City Hall was again crowded, as usual, with the old frequenters. John Neeb, round, rubleund and smiling as ever, was in his shirt cleaves and a state of perspiration. William Mo-Cleary, with one eye on the returns and the other on the Sheriff's office, had a stob of pencil and checked off the record of each precinct as it came in. C. L. Magee towered over the rest of the people, and united as happily over a loss announced as a gain recorded. Among the crowd was Becorder S. P. Conners, John Gripp, John Doyle, ex-Councilman James Getty, H. Grant Miller, Warden John Berlin, William Flinn. The adage, that ill news travels apace, was directly con last night by the manner in which the returns straggled in. Along with the hall news T. O'Leary, Jr., strolled in, and aithough he said he felt like a cat in a strunge garret, he appeared to enjoy the site official count would show a majority Johnston of something over 6,000. At 10:30 P. M. the Republican loss in 82 districts was 3,646 on the District Attorney fight.
